Passport Food Group Announces Opening of New Manufacturing Facility
Capacity more than doubles to over 100,000 Square feet

Ontario, CA (May 6, 2013) – Passport Food Group, LLC, holding company for Southeast Asian food manufacturers, Wing Hing Foods and Golden Pheasant Foods, today announced it has officially opened its new 106,000 square foot manufacturing facility in Ontario, California. This facility will also serve as its new corporate headquarters.

The state-of-the-art facility was designed to comply with the Food Safety Modernization Act of 2010, including certified Hazard Analysis of Critical Control Points (HACCP) and Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) programs. Management expects the facility will be certified to the Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) standard under SQF Level II before the end of 2013.

“It was our goal with this new facility to set a much higher standard of food safety and automation, as well as significantly increase our capacity, so we can continue to serve and grow with our national and international customer base” said Dave Abrams, CEO of Passport Food Group. “I can confidently say we achieved our goal. This new facility allows us to expand into new products desired by our customers, and is the next step towards our goal of becoming the leading supplier of Southeast Asian foods to the global foodservice industry, including restaurants, hospitality, education and healthcare end markets.”
